With the beginning of the new academic year, the Faculty of Education and Humanities, continuing its long-standing tradition, welcomed the new freshmen in the opening ceremony held on October 3.

With the beginning of the new academic year, the Faculty of Education and Humanities, continuing its long-standing tradition, welcomed the new freshmen in the opening ceremony held on October 3.

In a friendly and warm atmosphere, the Dean of the Faculty, Assoc. Prof. Dr. Senad Becirovic wished the new students a successful and productive year, emphasizing the importance of understanding learning as a never-ending process of acquisition and application, and seeing education as a fundament of individual as well as social growth. To introduce them with the people who will guide and support them in the upcoming years, the dean briefly presented the faculty members of the English as well as the newly-established Graphic Design and Multimedia department.

By presenting some of the main extracurricular events and activities organized and held in the previous years, the freshmen were encouraged to become members of the Linguistic Club, prepare a paper for the International Student Symposium, volunteer in organization of the Let's Enjoy English quiz for high school students, and get involved in many other activities the Faculty is planning to organize this year.

Finally, the ceremony was concluded in an artistic and pleasurable manner with two of our senior students, Maida Heric and David Jeremic, reciting a couple of classical verses accompanied on the guitar by Assist. Prof. Dr. Murat Oner.
