

Linguistics Club Quizzes for Charity

On November 6, The Linguistics Club held the second „No Pain, No Grain“ quiz. This week, the club members competed in an online quiz with topics that ranged from Vocabulary and English Literature to Human Anatomy and Geography. In this quiz, with each correct answer a donation of 10 grains of rice is made in your name through the UN World Food Programme. The larger your winning streak is the more rice you donate. However, with each wrong answer, the quiz resets. Students from all departments were given a chance to be a part of a programme that has donated over 95 billion grains of rice to date!
